

Technical drawing of a circular flange. The outer diameter is 157,5. The flange features two mounting holes: one labeled M12 and another labeled M20x1,5 G1/4. The drawing includes a center crosshair and dimension lines.

Drawings are prepared for catalogue study.

|                                                                                                                                                                                          |  |                     |  |            |  |                  |  |               |  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--|---------------------|--|------------|--|------------------|--|---------------|--|
| ChangeIssues                                                                                                                                                                  |  | 0First drawing  |  | 29.09.2009 |  |                  |  |               |  |
| PartWeight: 0 Kg                                                                                                                                                              |  | DrawingsChanges |  | Date       |  | Drawn by         |  | Checked by    |  |
| Do not send this drawing                                                                                                                                                                 |  | Bolt/Flange         |  | Carburized |  | Air heat         |  | Threaded hole |  |
| All rights in this document are the property of AKTAS. Knowledge and related intellectual assets created by us for your benefit are yours. Please inform us immediately if you use them. |  |                     |  |            |  |                  |  |               |  |
| PART NAME: 38321-01 K-ALU COMPLETE (AIRTECH) (095.0387)                                                                                                                                  |  |                     |  |            |  | ORDER NO: 137222 |  |               |  |